Connecting Methods & Motives Evaluation

The root word of motivation is motive.
Mo-tive (noun)- a reason for doing something.
Therefore, you must begin with a motive.

Here's how:

1.) What is the one thing that you wouldn't be able to rest until it's accomplished? Why is it necessary for you to accomplish this?

2.) What will you do today to get it started? What year, day and month will you finish this?

3.) When you pull this off, name 3 people who's lives will be revolutionized. How will your accomplishments change their lives?

"Being driven only means that you've made a commitment. Motivation is only a reminder of your commitment. Both can be satisfied by you."
